

New River Valley Small Business Resiliency Grant Application

The Counties of Floyd, Giles, Montgomery and Pulaski have jointly established this regional $1.6 million grant fund to support small business recovery and resiliency efforts due to the COVID-19 outbreak. Funds for these grants has been provided by Virginia’s Department of Housing and Community Development as part of a Community Development Block Grant award to assist localities mitigate the impacts of COVID-19 on the regional economy. Due to this funding source, we are unable to offer grants to businesses based in the towns of Blacksburg and Christiansburg, as well as the City of Radford. Grants of up to $15,000 are being provided to businesses to help offset business impacts during the pandemic. Applications will be accepted beginning December 30, 2020. Applicants must complete this application including required documentation.

Completed applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, until funds are exhausted.

Refer to the New River Valley Business Resiliency Grants information sheet, attached to this application form, for detailed guidelines including eligible businesses, eligible uses, ineligible uses, and documentation required.
